Where the Client wishes to deposit funds in its Account in a currency other than its designated Base Currency, the Firm will convert such funds into the Client's Base Currency unless the Firm accepts alternative instructions from the Client. The terms of this Section 12.2 will also apply where any interest or payments made by the Firm to the Client's Account are in a currency other than the Client's Base Currency.

12.3 Where the Client has a positive balance in its Account, the Client may request a withdrawal from the Firm, for any portion of the positive balance. The Firm may at its sole and absolute discretion withhold, deduct or refuse to make a payment (in whole or in part) due to the Client where:

12.3.1 the Client has Open Positions on the Account showing a loss;

12.3.2 the requested payment would reduce the Client's Account balance to less than the Margin required for the Client's Open Positions;

12.3.3 the Firm reasonably considers that funds may be required to meet any current or future Margin Requirement on Open Positions due to underlying market conditions;

12.3.4 the Client has any actual or contingent liability to the Firm, its associates or its Associated Firms; and/ or 12.3.5 the Firm reasonably determines that there is an unresolved dispute between the Firm and the Client relating to these Terms or any other agreement between them.

12.4 All payments from the Client's Account shall be made in the form of a return payment by bank wire transfer.

12.5 All payments from the Client's Account will be made in the Base Currency of that Account, unless the Client and the Firm agree in advance that such payment should be made in a different currency. The terms of this Section 12.6 will also apply where any interest, costs, commissions or other charges to be debited from the Client's Account are in a currency other than the Client's Base Currency. Where the Client and the Firm agree that such payment should be made in a different currency, the Firm will convert the relevant payment amount from the Base Currency to the then agreed currency for payment.

12.7 Whenever the Firm conducts currency conversions, the Firm will do so at such reasonable rate of exchange as the Firm selects. The Firm shall be entitled to add a mark-up to the exchange rates.

12.8 Unless the Firm provides the Client with a written notice to the contrary, all payments and deliveries by the Firm to the Client will be made on a net basis and the Firm shall not be obliged to deliver or make payment to the Client unless and until the Client provides the Firm with the appropriate documents or cleared funds.

12.9 Without prejudice to the Firm's right to require payment from the Client in accordance with these Terms, the Firm will have the right at any time to set off any losses incurred in respect of, or any debit balances in, any accounts (including a joint account and an account held with an Associated Firm) in which the Client may have an interest. If any loss or debit balance exceeds all amounts so held, the Client must forthwith pay such excess to the Firm whether demanded or not. The Client also authorizes the Firm to set off sums held by the Firm for or to the Client's credit in a joint account against losses incurred by the joint account holder. The Client also authorizes the Firm to set off any losses incurred in respect of, or any debit balances in, any account held by the Client with an Associated Firm against any credit on the Client's Account (including a joint account) with the Firm.

13 Client Money

13.1 Where the Firm classifies the Client as a Professional and/ or Eligible Counterparty Client:

13.1.1 the Client acknowledges and agrees that title in and/ or ownership of all of the money the Client deposits with the Firm to cover its Margin Requirement shall be transferred to the Firm for the purpose of securing or covering the Client's present, future, actual, contingent or prospective obligations, and the Firm will not hold such money. Any money received by the Firm from the Client or a third party for the Client's Account will be owed by the Firm to the Client. Hence, the Client does not have a proprietary claim over money transferred to the Firm, and the Firm can deal with it in its own right. The Firm will transfer an equivalent amount of money back to the Client where the money is due to be repaid to the Client or, in the Firm's sole and absolute discretion, the Firm considers that the amount of money the Client has transferred to the Firm is more than what is necessary to cover the Client's present, future, actual, contingent or prospective obligations to the Firm. In determining the amount of Margin and the amount of the Firm's obligations towards the Client, the Firm may apply such methodology (including judgements as to the future movement of markets and values), as the Firm considers appropriate, and consistent with the Applicable Regulations;

13.1.2 by placing money with the Firm, the Client agrees that all money transferred into the Client's Account is done so in anticipation of a Transaction with the Firm, and therefore has the purpose of securing or covering the Client's present, future, actual, contingent or prospective obligations to the Firm. The Client should not place any money with the Firm that is not for the purpose of securing or covering the Client's present, future, actual, contingent or prospective obligations to the Firm, and as a minimum to meet the Margin Requirement with the Firm;

13.1.3 the Client expressly acknowledges that any money the Client transfers to the Firm will not be segregated from the Firm's own money and that the Client will rank as a general creditor of the Firm in the event of insolvency or an equivalent failure;

13.1.4 the client represents and warrants to the Firm that it is the sole owner of or otherwise has the right to transfer all money it transfers to the Firm free and clean of any security interest, lien, encumbrance, or any other restriction; and

13.1.5 unless otherwise agreed in writing, the Client acknowledges and agrees that the Firm will not pay the Client interest on any money provided to the Firm. The Client therefore expressly waives any entitlement to any interest.

14 Client Assets

14.1 The Client agrees that the Firm will act as a custodian of the Client's assets which it may from time to time safeguard and administer under the Terms.

14.2 The Firm shall open one or more custody accounts in the name of its general customer population recording any shares, stocks, debentures, bonds, securities, or other similar property (including evidence of or title to Securities and all rights in respect of Securities) deposited or transferred by the Client or on the Client's behalf with or to the Firm or the Firm's sub-custodian or collected by the Firm or the Firm's sub-custodians for the Client's Account (hereinafter, "Custody Assets"). The Firm shall, at all times, reserve the right to reverse any provisional or erroneous entries (including reversals necessary to reflect adjustments by the Firm's sub-custodian to its records as a result of bad deliveries) to the custody accounts with effect back-valued to the date upon which the final or correct entry (or no entry) should have been made.

14.3 Custody Assets which are in registerable form may be registered in the Client's name or in the name of the Firm's Nominee. The Client agrees that registerable Custody Assets may also be registered in the name of a third party or in the Firm's name, but only if the particular Custody Asset is subject to the law or market practice of an overseas jurisdiction, it is in the Client's best interest or it is not feasible to do otherwise.

financial institution whether temporary or extended; any act of violence or terrorism; any immediate anticipation of the above or similar events.

15.2. We may, at our sole discretion and in our reasonable opinion having determined a Force Majeure Event has occurred: suspend or vary our terms of trading without notice to you or close any open positions you may hold where we may reasonably believe such closure would be in your best interests.
